

whole people and not by the Legislature of the several States." The Irish question is treated under the head of "Self-Determination." It reads:

"Mindful of the circumstances of the birth of our own Nation, we reassert the principle that all governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed. We favor the continuance of our long established and lawful practice of according recognition without intervention in all cases where the peoples of a nation, as in Ireland, have by free vote of the people set up a republic and chosen a government to which they yield willing obedience."

The preamble of the platform declares that the Democratic Party has an unrivaled record of achievement in the Nation, indorses the national platform and the nomination of Cox and Roosevelt.

Recounting the legislative recommendations of Gov. Smith, the platform condemns the Republican Legislature for its refusal to provide the modest appropriation of $50,000 requested for carrying out Gov. Smith's recommendations.

It rejoices in the marvelous record of Gov. Alfred E. Smith, which it says has been one of earnest endeavor and of brilliant achievement.

"Vigilant in the interests of the people," the resolution says, "has safeguarded the commonwealth from innumerable perils during the difficult period of reconstruction and readjustment."

"To promote efficiency and to eliminate waste," says the platform, "we still favor amendments to the Constitution which will effect a reorganization of the State Government and consolidate into eighteen departments with responsible heads the 187 existing unsystematized and imperfectly controlled agencies of government."

PLATFORM FAVORS SWEEPING PROVISIONS FOR HOUSING.

After calling for a Constitutional Amendment providing for an Executive budget system, the platform says:

"We recommend the creation of local housing boards in communities having a population of over 10,000, and the creation of central state housing agency to aid each locality in meeting the immediate pressing need for sufficient homes; a constitutional amendment permitting extension of State power to an adequate scale at low rates for the construction of moderate priced homes; legislation permitting cities to acquire, hold, or lease vacant lands for the purpose of carrying on housing as a municipal activity; the exemption of the bonds of the State Land Bank, and the extension of a limited period of mortgage loans on dwellings, from State, local and Federal taxation."

This programme was urged by the Governor in a special message to the Legislature, but the Republican majority ignored his recommendations.

"We favor effective legislation to protect tenants against the unreasonable increase of rents and dispossess proceedings of unfair landlords," the platform declares.

The platform condemns the Republicans for refusing to heed Gov. Smith's recommendation for a minimum wage law, and pledges the party to enact such measures. It opposes compulsory arbitration of private labor disputes. It favors equal opportunity for women in civil as well as political life; pledges a liberal, humane and efficient workmen's compensation law; an amendment to the constitution giving the people the right to adequate power in self government.

In relation to the primary system the platform says: "We believe in direct nomination. We are opposed to any legislation that will, in whole or in part, deprive enrolled voters of the direct choice of their own candidates. We approve the action of Gov. Smith in vetoing Republican legislation intended to destroy the direct primary system."

"We are opposed," says the final plank, "to legislation permitting State Commission to impair or modify the direct choice between cities of the State and railway companies fixing rates of fare. Measures violating this principle will be vigorously advocated by Republican legislators and by a Republican speaker of the Assembly in 1919 and 1920. Any modification of such contracts should be made by the contracting parties, in accordance with the majority sentiment of the community affected and they should not be imposed by the interference of State agencies."

After the platform had been adopted Chairman Sage announced that the roll call would be made by the roll call. Mayor Lunn voiced his objection to the plan. Thomas H. Lunn, chairman of the Democratic county delegate, opposed the roll call plan. He declared it was doubtful if any member of the Albany county delegation knew George R. Fife, the selection for Lieutenant Governor. The ticket, he said, had been picked by the leaders from New York, Erie and Broome. Charles E. Murphy, William W. Farley and William H. Fitzpatrick.

The objectors were out-voted and the roll call went through. Only one change was made in the ever-rising election. Judge Edgar S. K. Merrill, who had been given a place on the ticket for Associate Justice of the Court of Appeals, announced that he was declining the nomination.

Leader John H. McCooey of Brooklyn promptly turned him down and put in his place Supreme Court Justice Frank E. Crane of Brooklyn, who had been already designated by the Republican Convention for the same office.

After the roll call was through the conference adjourned.

Indorsement of Gov. Smith at last night's session was accompanied by many a eulogy and the going to the primaries of September without a vestige of opposition.

As a matter of fact, there never was a doubt of Gov. Smith being selected to succeed himself or that he would dictate the ticket to run with him. The ovation given to him last night in the Convention hall was even greater than those during the day. The delegates and the women in particular, were not to be denied an expression of their sentiments in favor of the Governor.

TRICKERY IN BOTH PARTIES CHARGED BY SUFFRAGISTS

Leaders Threaten to "Place Blame Where It Belongs" if Tennessee Balks.

WATCH BOTH NOMINEES

Express Suspicion About the Sincerity of Leaders to Get Suffrage Ratified.

By David Lawrence. Special Correspondent of The Evening World.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 4. (Copyright, 1920).—Women are sometimes supposed to arrive at conclusions by intuition, but whatever is at the bottom of it the fact is several suffrage leaders who are keeping a close watch on Gov. Cox and Senator Harding openly say the Republican and Democratic candidates for the Presidency, either separately or together, can furnish the necessary State to make valid the Nineteenth Amendment enfranchising the women of the country.

The suffrage leaders make out a circumstantial case tending to show that they are the victims of political chicanery. And if Tennessee doesn't ratify the amendment next week they will not hesitate to place the blame where they think it should be placed.

The women have expressed suspicion about the sincerity of both the Republican and Democratic efforts to get the suffrage amendment ratified. Complaint is made that the Republicans in the Senate could have furnished the extra vote to get the amendment through the session of Congress in which the Democrats last exercised control and that more time would have thus been available to get the approval of State Legislatures before the Presidential election.

SENATOR HALE CRITICIZED FOR DELAYING HIS VOTE.

It is declared, for instance, that Senator Hale of Maine, Republican, could have voted for suffrage as early as when the Democrats had control as when the Republicans came into power a few months later.

But the quarrel of the suffrage leaders is not with the Republicans for that, but with the Republican campaign managers, who it is charged, have been able whenever they wanted to say the word to ratification through either Vermont or Connecticut Legislatures, but have feared the women vote on the League of Nations issue might swing to Gov. Cox.

To some extent, the same sort of talk is heard among Democrats who say the Republicans have it in their power to ratify the suffrage amendment. But the women are not altogether positive that there isn't some inner influence among the Democrats, which might make them really happy if the Tennessee Legislature or any other, for that matter, failed to furnish the necessary vote.

It is whispered, for instance, that the Democrats are afraid the women might oppose Gov. Cox for his alleged views in favor of a modification of the Prohibition laws. On the other hand, the women are voting in New York State for President and Charlie Murphy was more than eager to have a wet candidate on the Presidential ticket this year and is said to be cooing as carrying New York State for the national ticket.

CAMP ON DOORSTEP OF BOTH THE NOMINEES.

The suffrage leaders have camped on the doorsteps of both the Republican and Democratic nominees for the Presidency. They insist that Gov. Cox can control the Democratic vote in Tennessee. They also insist that Senator Harding can influence the Republican members. Thus far the women leaders say the effort has been more or less perfunctory. What they would really like would be for the two Presidential candidates to play the same old fashioned pre-war politics, which they believe will be played to get the masculine support in the State.

They would like to see the two candidates play the same old fashioned pre-war politics, which they believe will be played to get the masculine support in the State. They would like to see the two candidates play the same old fashioned pre-war politics, which they believe will be played to get the masculine support in the State.

COX IS TO FIRE DAILY SHOTS AT G. O. P. NOMINEE

Will Ask Many Questions and May Challenge Harding to Debate.

DAYTON, O., Aug. 4. COX indicated to-day that he is preparing a vigorous daily political bombardment of the Republican position.

It is probable that the nominee will fire a series of questions at Harding and the rumor persists that he may challenge the Republican candidate to a joint debate, although the Senator has indicated he was opposed to such a plan.

Gov. Cox is assigning Democratic speakers to debates on the League, and other questions at Chautauques.

GOMPERS DOUBTS PLEDGE TO HARDING

Says Longshoremen's Head Has No Authority to Promise Political Aid.

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 4.—Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, declared to-day that a report from Marion, O., alleging that T. V. O'Connor, Chief of the International Longshoremen's Union, had promised aid to Senator Harding, evidently was inaccurate, unless he was speaking personally.

"O'Connor has no official authority to promise assistance in a political sense from the Federation," he said. Mr. Gompers also doubted O'Connor had suggested preferential help from the union in which he is a leader.

Frank Morrison, Secretary of the Federation, declared he was unaware of any movement in the Executive Council to force the steel workers to force the United States Steel Corporation to change its non-union policy.

He said he understood, however, the Federation would make an effort to effectively organize steel workers.

KID M'COY'S WIFE NO. 8 PLANS TO SUE

Wants Divorce Because He Has Given Her Only $50 Since April.

She was formerly Dagnair Dahlgren and became the eighth Mrs. Selby.

She said one month after their marriage Kid McCoy left for New York in response to a telegram from J. J. Lickliffe and she has not seen him since.
